

Global Change & Land Use

Global change is the full range of natural and human-induced changes in the Earth's environment that may alter the capacity of the Earth to sustain life

Components:

- Population growth
- GHG emissions
- Land use & erosion
- Climate
- Element's cycling
- Resource depletion
- Chemical Pollution
- Biodiversity

Land use change →
main driver of global change